Executive Proclamation

Office Of The Governor

WHEREAS, Eagle Butte is a vital South Dakota community located on the eastern-most boundary of Ziebach County; and,

WHEREAS, History is unclear whether Eagle Butte is so named because the Indians used to trap eagles on or near it or because eagles formerly nested there; and,

WHEREAS, In 1958, Eagle Butte was faced with housing, feeding and educating nearly twice the citizens it had formerly had because the Cheyenne River Agency was being moved to the community as a result of the construction of Oahe Dam and the many workers and their families needed to complete the new structures; and,

WHEREAS, Following the flurry of building and advancement made in the community in the late 1950s, Eagle Butte turned a page back in history and survived annual wild horse round-ups where as many as 350 mustang stallions and geldings were culled, and then 100 of these animals were herded over 35 miles to the sale at Eagle Butte; and,

WHEREAS, Eagle Butte is celebrating its Seventy-fifth year as a city with three days of festivities and a parade; and,

WHEREAS, It is fitting and proper for the Governor to make note of the major milestones in South Dakota's thriving communities:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, WILLIAM J. JANKLOW, Governor of the State of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim July 19, 20 and 21, 1985, as in South Dakota, and I join the citizens of Eagle Butte and the larger community of South Dakota in celebrating the first seventy-five years of vitality and in wishing Eagle Butte a prosperous, growing and enriching future.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the State of South Dakota, in Pierre, the Capital City, this Sixteenth Day of July, in the Year of Our Lord, Nineteen Hundred and Eighty-Five
